Join us for the opening reception of the Virginia Tech Carilion School of Medicine’s latest community offering, The Art of Precision and Reach. This exhibition, curated by artist Jane Lillian Vance, investigates the synaptic space between art and science. Dozens of artists have used a range of mediums to capture the creativity, humanity, and grace found in that interstice.